

POL 208: Introduction to International Relations

Part I - Fall 2017

Tuesdays 5-7, HS610

Professor Seva Gunitsky

OH: Tuesdays 1-3

Course Description (Fall Semester): This course examines a number of major themes and issues in global politics, such as interstate conflict, state formation, nationalism, nuclear weapons, and the global order.

Readings: There is a required coursepack for this class, which contains all the readings and is available at Image X-Press (193 College Street).

Blackboard: You are required to check this site regularly. ALL handouts, updates and assignments will be distributed through Blackboard. It is your responsibility to log into Blackboard to access the information posted regarding the course (portal.utoronto.ca).

Course Requirements: In the first half of the course, you will be evaluated on the basis of one in-class midterm, a paper, and your participation in tutorial. The breakdown of your Fall course grade (50% of your final grade for the year) is as follows:

Paper (due Week 9):	10%
Midterm (Week 12):	25%
Tutorials:	15%

Please note that your tutorial grade for this semester will be assessed separately from the Winter semester.

Tutorials will meet beginning Week 3. There are no tutorials in Week 1, 2, 7, and 12.

The midterm is a closed-book, closed-note test that will cover concepts from both the readings and the in-class lectures. All students' grades will be given based on their performance on the assignments according to the above percentages. There are NO exceptions.

Tutorial attendance is crucial to your success in this course. Your tutorial leader will discuss themes from the readings and lecture, and review any questions that students may have. You may have assignments designed to clarify challenging material. Your grade in tutorial is based on attendance, informed participation, and performance on in-class or take-home assignments, if applicable. Attending fewer than 6 of your tutorials will lead to an automatic tutorial grade of 0%.

Laptops and cellphones: if you are using laptops for purposes other than taking notes, please sit in the back or toward the edges, so as not to distract other students. The TAs will be able to see who's not following this rule, and may ask you to move if your behavior is rude or distracting. Please keep phones turned off or on silent mode.

Accessibility Concerns: The University of Toronto is committed to accessibility. If you require accommodations or have any accessibility concerns, please visit <http://studentlife.utoronto.ca/accessibility> as soon as possible.

Grade Appeals: If you are unhappy with a grade on an assignment, you may submit a written appeal to your TA, explaining why you feel your grade on an assignment is unjustified. You must submit this written appeal no later than two weeks after your assignment is returned. Be warned: no regrades result in an automatic increase in the grade, as assignments must be evaluated anew. Your grade may stay the same, go up, or go down.

Please note: changes to student grades on assignments will only be considered if there is demonstrable clerical error in the calculation of a particular score. You must submit a written appeal in order to have a grade reevaluated.

If you are still unhappy after your TA's regrade, you may contact the Head TA to request an instructor regrade. These regrades will be granted only in cases where a regrade is deemed necessary by the Head TA or instructor, and may improve or lower your grade.

ACADEMIC HONESTY: When you use other people's words and ideas, you must properly cite them, whether these words come from the readings, the Internet, or in class. Failing to do so constitutes plagiarism, and is a very serious academic offense. Please consult myself or your TA if you have any questions. See also: www.writing.utoronto.ca/advice/using-sources/how-not-to-plagiarize.

Normally, students will be required to submit their course essays to Turnitin.com for a review of textual similarity and detection of possible plagiarism. In doing so, students will allow their essays to be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database, where they will be used solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism. The terms that apply to the University's use of the Turnitin.com service are described on the Turnitin.com web site.

Final grades are final. Please do not try to negotiate your grade with the TA. Grades are calculated according to the above percentages, assessing your performance on all of the class assignments. THEY ARE NOT ARBITRARY. You should ask for help before an assignment – we are always happy to answer your questions. Making the effort before the grades are turned in will always be more beneficial to you than making the case afterward for why you need extra points.
