POL 469F/POL 2226F: ETHICS AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Fall 2018, Thursday 12-2, Room TBA
Instructor: Zhichao Tong
Office: TBA
Email: zhichao.tong@mail.utoronto.ca
Office Hours: TBA

DESCRIPTION OF THE COURSE

The seminar explores the possibilities for and requirements of ethical action in international affairs. It is common to study international relations in terms of interests and power, but actors invoke the language of justice all the time in their international interactions. Drawing on readings from normative international relations theory and political philosophy, the course takes up ethical dilemmas encountered in world affairs in the context of debates about intervention, development, and international institutions.

The seminar is research-intensive: as a major component of their coursework, students will prepare an independent research paper on an approved topic related to course themes. Students will receive several opportunities to develop and refine their research. Three course components serve that purpose: the research proposal, the research paper, and the research presentation. Students are expected to work closely with the instructor in all stages of their research and are encouraged to book meetings in office hours to receive feedback on their work.

READINGS

The following reading materials will be used in the course:

4) Selected articles and book chapters available electronically via U of T libraries

The books are available on short-term loan at Robarts Library and for purchase at U of T Bookstore, located at 214 College Street.

FORMAT AND REQUIREMENTS

The course will meet for two hours of seminar discussion per week. Additional time may be scheduled for the student presentations, if required by enrolment.

Performance in the course will be evaluated on the basis of the following components:

Research Proposal (500 words) 15%
Research Paper (3000 words) 40%
Research Presentation (500 words for handout) 15%
Participation 30%

The research proposal (15% of the final grade) consists of a 500-word description of a question students intend to explore in their research paper and a brief description of the approach they expect to take to answer their question, accompanied by a detailed bibliography of works that will be consulted in the process. The selected topic is expected to be relevant to course themes and must be approved by the instructor. It is essential to start working on the proposal early.

The research paper (40% of the final grade) involves the preparation of a 3000-word ethical analysis of the topic that was approved in the proposal.

The research presentation (15% of the final grade) entails a 5-minute oral presentation of the main findings of the research paper, accompanied by a 500-word written handout that will be distributed to the class, followed by a brief 5-minute question and answer period.

Participation (30% of the final grade) will be assessed on the basis of regular attendance and informed participation in class discussions on an ongoing basis. Adequate preparation is essential. Students should be aware that missed weeks can have a significant impact on their final mark for the course.

COURSE POLICIES

Extensions and make-ups: No extensions or make-ups will be granted on written assignments and presentations, unless students have acceptable reasons that are documented, e.g. illness supported by an official U of T medical certificate. Appropriate documentation must be submitted within one week of missed term work. Assignments or tests from other courses scheduled for the same day or work commitments do not constitute acceptable reasons, so plan in advance accordingly.

Length penalties: Students should include word counts on all written assignments. Assignments that are more than 10% longer or shorter than the word count will be penalized by 5%.
Late penalties: Written assignments are to be handed in at the beginning of class on the date that they are due. Late assignments will be penalized. There is no allowance for computer problems, printer problems, late buses, late trains, and so on. The late submission penalty is 2% per late day, weekends included. The cut-off time for the determination of the number of late days is 5 pm. (Please note the following exception to the cut-off time: assignments received after class begins on the date they are due will be considered 1 day late to ensure fairness to students who have submitted their assignments on time at the beginning of class.) Late submissions will not be accepted once marked assignments have been returned to the class.

Submission of late assignments: Late assignments must be submitted at the reception of the Political Science Department on the 3rd floor of Sidney Smith Hall. All late work must be date-stamped by departmental staff at the time of submission and must clearly note the course code and name of the instructor and TA. Make sure to submit your work during business hours (9 am to 5 pm) or no one will be there to receive it. Assignments submitted by fax or email will not be accepted, unless prior arrangements have been made.

Plagiarism: All sources used in written assignments must be properly cited. Failure to acknowledge sources constitutes plagiarism—a serious academic offense. For more information, students can review “How Not to Plagiarize” and other advice on sources at www.writing.utoronto.ca/advice/using-sources.

Turnitin: Normally, students will be required to submit their course essays to Turnitin.com for a review of textual similarity and detection of possible plagiarism. In doing so, students will allow their essays to be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database, where they will be used solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism. The terms that apply to the University's use of the Turnitin.com service are described on the Turnitin.com web site.

Double-sided printing: To help conserve paper, please print all written assignments double-sided if you can. You can learn how at: printdoublesided.sa.utoronto.ca.

Quercus and email: Students are expected to check their U of T emails and the course quercus page regularly for posted course materials and announcements.

RESOURCES

Writing skills: Students can visit www.writing.utoronto.ca for advice on all aspects of academic writing. Students can also make use of the college writing centers for individualized consultations on their written assignments. Interested students should book their appointments with the writing centers early, as they fill up fast. Information about the writing centers is available at http://www.writing.utoronto.ca/writing-centres/arts-and-science. Students can also take advantage of the Library’s free “Writing Plus” academic skills workshop series, described at http://www.writing.utoronto.ca/writing-plus. International students can find information about the English Language Learning program (ELL), which includes practice opportunities for improving oral communication and reading skills, at http://www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/advising/ell.

Accessibility services: Students with special needs are strongly encouraged to register with accessibility services to arrange necessary accommodations for fair access to their courses.
Registrar’s office: Students are encouraged to contact their registrar promptly with any unexpected difficulties they may experience during the course.
