

POL 208: Introduction to International Relations

Part I - Fall 2019

Tuesdays 5-7

Professor Seva Gunitsky

Office Hours: Tuesdays 2-4, Munk School 124N

Course Description (Fall Semester): This course examines some key themes and issues in global politics, including interstate war, state formation, nationalism, nuclear weapons, and the evolution of the global order.

Readings: There is a required coursepack for this class, which contains all the readings and is available at UT Pharmacy+Print (193 College Street).

Quercus: All handouts, updates and assignments will be distributed through Quercus. It is your responsibility to regularly access the information posted regarding the course.

Course Requirements: In the first half of the course, you will be evaluated on the basis of one in-class midterm, a 3-page policy brief, and your participation in tutorial. The breakdown of your Fall course grade (50% of your final grade for the year) is as follows:

Policy Brief (due Week 9):	10%
Midterm (Week 12):	25%
Tutorials:	15%

Policy Brief: A 3-page essay that examines a key issue in Canadian foreign policy, offers concrete policy solutions, and uses arguments from the readings to support its conclusions. (Double-spaced, size 12 font, 1 inch margins).

Midterm: The midterm is a closed-book, closed-note test that will cover concepts from both the readings and the in-class lectures.

Tutorials: Tutorials will meet beginning Week 2. There are no tutorials in Weeks 1, 9, and 12. Please note that your tutorial mark for this semester will be assessed separately from the Winter semester.

Your tutorial leader will discuss themes and answer questions dealing with the readings and lecture. Tutorial attendance is therefore crucial to your success in this course. Your grade in tutorial is based on attendance, participation, and a 2-page reading response. (Due by Week 7.)

Laptops and cellphones: if you are using laptops for purposes other than taking notes, please sit in the back or toward the edges, so as not to distract other students. The TAs will ask you to move if your behavior is rude or distracting. You may use phones for taking notes, but please keep them in silent mode.

Accessibility Concerns: The University of Toronto is committed to accessibility. If you require accommodations or have any accessibility concerns, please visit <http://studentlife.utoronto.ca/accessibility>.

Grade Appeals: If you are unhappy with a grade on an assignment, you may submit a written appeal to your TA, explaining why you feel your grade on an assignment is unjustified. You must submit this written appeal no later than two weeks after your assignment is returned. Regrades do not mean an automatic increase, as assignments must be evaluated anew. Your grade may stay the same, go up, or go down.

If you are still unhappy after your TA's regrade, you may contact the Head TA to request an instructor regrade. These regrades will be granted only in cases where a regrade is deemed necessary by the Head TA or instructor, and may improve or lower your grade.
