University of Toronto
Department of Political Science
POL 382 H1F, Topics in Canadian Politics:
Canadian Political Economy
Fall 2022
Syllabus

Professor: Rodney Haddow
Class time: Tuesday, 4 PM – 6 PM
Class location: Claude Bissell 325
My office location: 3119 Sidney Smith Hall; 100 St. George Street
Office hours: Wednesday, 4 PM – 5 PM via zoom; I am also available by appointment at other times. Details of zoom connection will be provided at the first class. Note that regular office hours will be virtual, not in my office.
E-mail: r.haddow@utoronto.ca

Course description: Political economy, for the purposes of this course, is the study of the state’s relationship to the economy, that is, how economic forces and interests shape public policies and how the latter reciprocally condition the former. It is macro-level and historical: Phenomena of interest are examined across many aspects of social life and multiple policy fields. Their development typically is studied in the long-term.

This course examines the political economy of Canada. It begins with a discussion of the staples orientation of the economy that emerged here after the arrival of Europeans, of governments’ management of the economy until World War Two, and of the multiple interpretations that were, and still are, proposed of these developments. Subsequent lectures discuss federal government policies in relation to wealth-creation and redistribution since then, and their effect, culminating with current policies and debates. Later lectures turn to the role of provincial governments, which have been particularly important political-economic actors since the 1960s. There will also be a lecture on the distinctive features of pre-contact Indigenous political economies, their fate after European contact, and recent efforts to restore self-government. The course ends with a consideration of the current state and future prospects for Canada’s political economy.

Five areas of public policy response to economic forces and interests are considered, with the treatment of each varying, as appropriate, with the historical period examined: foreign trade, infrastructure development, industrial and innovation policy, social policy and redistribution, and Indigenous relations. Term papers will examine recent developments in one of these areas.

Students are expected to attend all lectures.

You will also be required to submit a 10 to 12-page essay by 11:59 PM on November 15th. Papers will be submitted via Quercus.
Required Readings: All required readings will be available on the course Quercus page.

Grades and grading: If you wish to appeal a grade for an essay marked by the TA, you will have to approach the TA first, with a 150-200 word written explanation of why you wish to have the grade reviewed. Only after this step has been completed, and the paper has been re-evaluated by the TA, will I consider the matter. I will only adjust an assigned grade if I feel that it is egregiously wrong – i.e., if the grade is off by 5% or more.

If the grade was assigned by me in the first place, please return the assignment to me with a 150-200 word written explanation of your reasons for requesting a re-evaluation.

Appeals should be made within two weeks of the assignment having been returned to you.

The TA will grade the term paper; I will grade the mid-term test and the final exam. Please note that the drop deadline for courses this term is November 16th.

Grading Scheme and Course Requirements:

- One-hour mid-term, October 25th: 20%
- 10 to 12-page term paper, due November 15th: 40%
- Final exam, to be written during December exam period: 40%

Term Essays: The essay assignment will be circulated early in the term. Please note that papers that are submitted late will be penalized at the rate of 2% per weekday (Monday to Friday). They are to be submitted electronically via Quercus. Exceptions will only be made to this rule on justified medical grounds with proper medical documentation. Students are strongly advised to keep rough and draft work and hard copies of their essays and assignments before submitting their paper. These should be kept until the marked assignments have been returned.

Essay extensions will be granted only with acceptable documentation. The preferred options, recommended by the Faculty of Arts and Science, are the following:

- The UofT Verification of Illness or Injury Form.
- A Student Health or Disability Related Certificate.
- A Letter of Accommodation from Accessibility Services.
- A letter from your College Registrar.

Students should also be aware that plagiarism is considered to be a major academic offence, and that it will be penalized accordingly. For further clarification and information, please see the University of Toronto’s policy on plagiarism at http://www.writing.utoronto.ca/advice/using-sources. The essay assignment sheet will provide more detail on these points.

Normally, students will be required to submit their course assignments to the University’s plagiarism detection tool website for a review of textual similarity and detection of possible plagiarism. In doing so, students will allow their material to be included as source documents in the University’s plagiarism detection tool reference database, where they will be used solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism. The terms that apply to the University’s use of the University’s plagiarism detection tool service are described on the company web site.

All term work must be submitted by December 7th, 2021.

Accessibility Needs: The University of Toronto is committed to accessibility. If you require accommodations for a disability, or have any accessibility concerns about the course, the classroom or course materials, please contact Accessibility Services as soon as possible: disability.services@utoronto.ca or http://studentlife.utoronto.ca/accessibility

Lecture themes & required readings:

1. September 13th: Introduction: What is Political Economy? Why Study Canada’s?

2. September 20th: State & Staples Economy, from European Arrival to 1945

3. September 27th: Competing Interpretations: An Independent Political Economy? A Balanced One, Externally or Internally?

5. October 11th: Trade Policy 2: The Impact of Free Trade, Later Policies & Debates

6. October 18th: Industrial and Innovation Policies: Is there an Alternative to a Market-Oriented Approach for Canada?

7. October 25th: Mid-Term Test and Essay Preparation
   Mid-Term Test will be written during the first hour of this class
   The Second Hour will be Devoted to a Discussion of your Essay Assignment

8. November 1st: Canada’s Welfare State: Development, Erosion, Consequences

9. November 8th: Reading week; no class.

10. November 15th: The Political Economy of Federalism and Provincial Welfare States
    [NB: Your term paper is due for submission on Quercus at 11:59 PM tonight]

11. November 29th: Political Economy and Canada’s Indigenous Peoples

12. December 6th: Wither Canada’s Political Economy?